REPRET PRIDEROPER. These inveterate court squatters seem to have an open sesame to the court, chamber, but they were the only curious citizens who succeeded in passing Capt. Michael O'Beirne. of the court, who stood guard at the door to day, like Horatius at the bridge.

The prosecution announced this morning that there were but four witnesses to be examined before the battle royal between the medical experts would begin, and some testimony that would really weigh against the sal-low Arab would be laid before the jury.

Dr. Justin Herold, for years a Coroners' physician, was on hand early, armed with onderous tomes, learned treatises on strangulation, asphyxiation and other causes o death, prepared to take issue with Dr lenkins, who testifies for the people that Jack the Ripper's victim was strangled to eath and that the dull-edged case kulfe was applied to her dead body.

COURT OFFICER CAPT. O'BEIRNE. Dr. Rush Shippen Heidekoper, over from Philadelphia, was on hand, prepared to dispute his protege, Dr. Henry Formad, if he old the jury that he had been able to determine with the microscope and by chemical analysis that the spots of blood cut from the woodwork of room 33, or the little daubs of blood on Frenchy's clothing, were tainted with intestinal fluid showing evidences of undigested food.

Dr. Paul Gibter and Prof. Henry A. Mott too, sat with the counsel for the defense, prepared to do battle scientifically for the miserable Arab beggar, arraigned in this court of justice, charged with the most arroctous slaughter ever done in America.

The Viscount d'Absac, Consul-General for France; M. Batti, of his staff; Lawyer Edmund Huerstel, counsel to the French Consviate; E. Sultan, the Hotel borough cigar dealer, and other French. mon, were present to aid this poor wretch in his defense—for he is a French subject, and gave six years of his manhood to the service of ha belle France as a soldier in a Turco regiment.

WHO KILLED LARBIG?

Detectives Hint that He Was Shot by Dovie Comstock Herself.

Important Developments Expected at To-Night's Inquest.

Gen. Meserole Visits His Son in Jail-Larbig's Body Buried.

The mysteriousness of the Brooklyn police and the reticence of District-Attorney Ridgbluts lot fail by detectives working on the step in at the last moment with write staying case, have led to some startling theiries in regard to the shooting of Theodore Larbig in Mrs. Dovie Comstock's flat in Sackett street fast Saturday night.

They all point to a different version of the hooting from that told by Mrs. Comstock and oning Darwin Meserole at the Butler street tation after the affray.

One theory is that Mrs. Comstock herself did he shooting, and that the story of the assault ipon her by Larbig, and his subsequent atack upon Meserole, was invented by the pair o shield the woman, and to establish a case of shooting in self-defense. It is said by Meserole's friends that he was ever known to carry a revolver and was mild and peaceable in his disposition.

On the other hand Mrs. Comstock is known o have been a woman of violent passions and when Larteg came in after his return rom the races Saturday night and charged her with treachery towards him she may have fired the shots herself. It is intimated that an insurance policy for $15,000 upon Larbig's life, made out in favor of Mrs. Comstock, was found in her room and wife was the beneficiary, and that this also may have furnished a motive for wishing to put him out of the way.

The other theory is that Larbig and Meshung over the top of a chair in the front room and his hat lay on the plano. According to Meserole and Mrs. Comstock, Larbig did not come into the front room at all, but was admitted by the door at the back of the hall into the dining-room in the rear. It was then that he first attacked Mrs. Comstock and chased her into the small bedroom adjoining, when Meserole came to her assist-at his rival. How the coat and hat came to be in the front room is a mystery which has not yet been cleared up, although District Attorney Hidgway is said to be in possession of very damaging facts against the woman, which will be brough out at the inquest this evening. Several persons living in the house where Mrs. Comstock has her flat, have been subponned to attend the inquest. It is said that some of them heard Mrs. Comstock when she ran out into the hall, cry out."

"Don't shoot him! For God's make, don't shoot."

District Attorney Hidgway said this morning that he had not the slightest doubt that the shooting was done by Meserole; but he declined to say what information he had in regard to the part the woman played in the afgard to the part the woman played in the alfair.

To one of the detectives Mrs. Comstock said: "Larbig cared enough for me to give me a policy of insurance on his life."

Kate McCaffrey, Mrs. Comstock's servant, is still in charge of the flat. She expects that her mistress will come back after the inquest this evening. The rent was paid up to July 1, and the agent of the house last evening told Mrs. McCaffrey that it wast be paid in advance at once or he would have Mrs. Comstock's furniture moved out.

Miss McCaffrey said she had talked with Mrs. Comstock at the jall about the shooting.

"Mrs. Comstock told me she ran out of the room as seen as she saw Mr. Messerole with his pistel in his hand, and called to him not to shoot.

shoot.

"she was in the next room when the shooting took place and did not see it at all.

"Afterwards Mr. Meserole came out and said he had shot Larbig and though he had killed him, and then they went together to killed him, and then they went together to the pedes station."

"On the day of the shooting," said Miss Mo-caffee, Mr. Larbig came in about lunch time. He was introduced to Mr. Meserole by Mrs. Comsteek, who said sue had rented her front room to bin.
